VALEDICTORY

WE INHERIT A GREATER DEMAND

Classmates, Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

We are gathered here tonight as the graduating class of 1951. On this occasion sadness is mingled with happiness. We are happy because we have reached our journey's end as far as high school education is concerned; we are sad because after eleven years as a group, we will be on our own to face the vast unknown future. We realize, however, that the time has come for us to face the new and heavy problems that will arise, but the painstaking efforts of our teachers and parents have prepared us to make our own decisions and to take on our share of social problems.

This is not a time for weeping; rather we should be rejoicing. We feel that we should rejoice because of the opportunity of being this graduating class of '51. We feel that our efforts and the efforts of those who have stood by us through the years have not been in vain.

We, this class of '51, are certainly facing a "foggy" future. The way ahead is not clear, because of all the complex problems that the world must face. These are times in which we have to live and have been helped greatly to understand them. We are probably facing some of the most critical times in our history. The question is; are we prepared or are we willing, if need be, to endeavor to share our country's efforts and to be of greater value to our democratic way of life by supporting courageously all the ideals that have made America great?

We should not be satisfied at reaching this point in our lives. This event tonight is only a small fraction of the things we want from life, and is only the beginning of things that are stored up for us, if we are but willing to avail ourselves of the material, intellectual, and moral wealth that spells U.S.A.

We are sometimes prone to handle our opportunities for an education carelessly, and seem to think that a high school education is the highest goal that can be reached. We find today that one's training continues indefinitely. There is always so much room for improvement in the development of all individuals.

The very fact that we refer to graduation as commencement, is a strict reminder that we have not as yet achieved, we are just beginning. Our contributions to the world around us and abroad; our cooperation with the forces of progress-physical, intellectual, or moral; the application of our training to society of which we become full-fledged members tonight; are all heavy responsibilities that we hope to shoulder unflinchingly.

You, our elders, will question our dependability and our trustworthiness. "Do they rate high in us?" you may ask. We hope we never forget that these qualities are more important today than ever before. "The sum of individual character makes national character." Since society can not be better than the individuals that compose it, we hope to become real assets that we may share in making this world a better place to live in.

Dependability means honesty-honesty to the ideals we now believe in, honesty toward our fellowman, honesty in recognizing right from wrong, and honesty of action.

Trustworthiness is a result of the proceeding two. May we never stray from the path we know to be right; and may we never flinch in our obligations to God, man, and Country in tasks large or small. As Henry Van Dyke once said, "We may have to live in a crowd; but we do not have to become a part of it, or be influenced by it, nor subsist on its food." Many of us are prone to be followers today instead of leaders. Our opportunities to become leaders are ever present.

"Opportunity knocks every day of the year." Why aren't more of us good leaders? Is it lack of moral fortitude or apathy? We hope to have enough convictions to justify the trust in our generation at all times. We do not know what the future holds, but we hope to, "Always be Prepared."

How is our attitude toward others? We know we are living in a fast moving world, where too many people have forgotten others exist, and are only looking out for themselves in a selfish manner; not stopping to think of their fellowmen. It is time for all to realize that we cannot live in this world just by ourselves and with selfish ways. Happiness will be attained when we have taken time to learn to live with others without wanting to force others to live as we do. We might well remember this motto, "Do the greatest number of things to please the greatest number of people," that would be for the greatest good.

At this point we also think of courtesy, a natural derivative from a proper attitude toward others. Courtesy is, "Like the eye of the person that looks beyond the friend's broken gateway, and sees the rose blooming in his garden."

All of these things might seem un-important now; but we hope never to forget they are very important factors in anyone's life, and are some of the things we will need whether we plan to continue our education or not.

The road ahead may be rugged, but we are thankful we have had a small bit of experience with it already. We will not give up now; we will continue to struggle for the important things in life rather than the less important things we desire, without becoming prey to easy discouragement; and we must remember all along that: "Nothing worthwhile without great labor; and where there's a will, there's a way."

The curtains are now falling on this graduating class. We feel this much of our life has been a worthwhile endeavor. Thanks to the efforts of all those who have shared in the molding of our character; we hope to let no one down.

As the unknown future is unveiled to us gradually, we will give it a smile to show that we are not afraid of it-that we are willing to contribute to it.

May we say not goodbye, but just farewell for now.

Alice Holbert, Valedictorian

SALUTATORY

Dear Parents, Teachers, Classmates and Friends:

Tonight, we, the graduating class of 1951, wish to welcome you to a great event, our final commencement exercise. For the past eleven years we have fought many a battle and faced many hardships, but tonight we gather here to receive our reward. Tonight we are proud and happy, but yet deep down inside there is a sadness, because from now on we shall have only a memory of school days that are past. We realize, that at times, we were only a foolish group of girls and boys. We have reached the climax of our high school days, and now we must look into the future. We see a life that is full of trials and responsibilities, and we also hope, one full of happiness and success.

Our Parents, if it were not for your tears, worries, cares, and interest we wouldn't be here as the graduating class of '51. From the bottom of our hearts, we wish to express our appreciation for your love and guidance, which has made tonight possible. We hope that you are as proud as we are.

Teachers, we wish to thank you for helping to make tonight possible, for the faithfulness you have shown, and for encouragement you have given. Again we wish to thank you.

Underclassmen, we wish you the success and happiness in life. The memories will always linger in our hearts of the most happy days we spent with you.

And now, dear Classmates, the time has come when we must part; we know not the time, or the place in which we will ever meet again, but we wish each other a very successful life. We shall never forget the happy days we spent together.

Salutatorian:
Terry Brooks.

CLASS HISTORY

In the early fall of the year of 1940, the boys and girls entered Spottswood school's door to begin their education that would prepare them for the life ahead as an American citizen. They were not sure of themselves and this life frightened them for they did not understand this change at all.

Of the original group that started their education in that year only seven remain. Eloise Ramsey Allen, Mary Helen Gorden, Margie Deaver, Mary Alice Robertson, Bobby Sorrels, Terry Brooks and Verney Fitzgerald. Our director was Miss Helen Huff.

At the end of our summer vacation, we were proud of the fact that we were second graders, working our way up in the field of education under the guidance of Mrs. Carl Hays.

Our next goal was the third grade, under the directorship of Miss Mary McClure. One of our most important achievements was the Operetta in which the grades three through seven participated.

The next fall found us on our way through the fourth grade. We began to believe that we were grown-up by this time. We were joined this year by Alice Holbert and were under the guidance of Miss Frances Fulwider.

Back from our summer vacation we entered the fifth grade. Mrs. Jack Bryant was our teacher. We presented another Operetta; of them all this was the most successful.

The next session we entered the sixth grade under the leadership of Miss Helen Cline. We had come a long way since 1941 and were anxious to continue our work. We were joined this year by Maxie Allen, James Fitzgerald and Roy Ayers. At this point in our history we pause in loving remembrance of Jo Ann Harris who passed away February 8, 1946.

It had been a long climb but at last we were in the seventh-grade, soon ready to enter high school. We were joined this year by Bill Harlow, Bobby Gorden, and Beryl Lunsford. Miss Margaret Ramsey was our teacher.

At last we were freshman, our first year of high school. We were joined this year by Adair Austin, Robert Groah, and Arthur Smiley. Mrs. Gorden Ramsey was our home room teacher.

After our summer's vacation, we began the ninth year of building our education under the direction of Miss Helen Swotzer; Mr. J. T. Horn was our Principal.

Another summer vacation and we were Juniors. We were very proud of this long journey in the field of education and next year we would be the Senior Class. Our Junior Play was a success.

Seniors, we can hardly believe it possible; but it is true. This is our last year at Old Spottswood High School. Our home room director is Mr. G. T. Perron, and our principal is Mr. J. T. Horn. He has been our principal since our sophomore year.

Now that the end is here, we are sorry to leave Spottswood High School, for it has been our home for eleven years.

We, the Seniors, as the graduating class of 1951, wish to express our sincere thanks to our parents and all the teachers that have helped make our education possible.

Historian

CLASS WILL OF '51

We, the Senior Class of Spottswood Hi School, being of unsettled mind, of varying health, and preparing to leave for our future ahead, do make and publish this last will and testament.

Realizing we must leave, we wish to leave something for our fellow students to remember our days in High School together.

- I, Alice Holbert, will my interest in Home Economics to Sylvia Painter.
- I, Terry Brooks, will my short statue to Gary Phillips.
- I, Mary Helen Gorden, will my quiet disposition to Polly Harlow.
- I, Harold Fauver, will my love for Farm life to anyone who seeks security.
- I, Mary Alice Robertson, will my sweet disposition to Mr. Krause.
- I, Beryl Lunsford, will my curly hair to Buddie Whorrel.
- I, Eloise Allen, will my friendly disposition to Mr. Horn.
- I, Robert Groah, will my liking for baseball to Leroy Bradley.
- I, Norine Cash, will my ability to play basketball to Jo Ann Beard.
- I, Arthur Smiley, will my liking of track to anyone who will practice and win.
- I, Margie Deaver, will my blue eyes to Mr. Perron.
- I, Charles Moyer, will my ability to get to school on time to Pauline Sensabaugh.
- I, Mary Catherine Wiseman, will my dimples to Julie Mae Black.
- I, Bobby Gorden, will my "Little Blue Ford" to anyone who likes to ride in it.
- I, Raymond Hayes, will my seat in Government class to Leona Bradley.
- I, James Fitzgerald, will my willingness to graduate to anyone who thinks of quitting.
- I, Steve Moyer, will my shorthand ability to Yvonne Carr.
- I, Roy Ayers, will my dark hair to Mrs. Roller.
- I, Maxie Allen, will my interest in the Spottswood Girls to Winfred Ramsey.
- I, Eddie Earhart, will my big structure to Kenneth Robertson.
- I, Clayburn Graves, will my appetite to D. W. Ham.
- I, Bill Harlow, will my short attitude to Charles Senabaugh.
- I, Cecil Painter, will my athletic ability to Tommy Koogler,

CLASS POEM

Seniors, here, Seniors there,
Seniors, Seniors, everywhere,
Some are good, some are bad,
Some are better than the rest,
But Spottswood Seniors are the best.

First, is Alice, likeable and gay,
Will She Succeed? Yes, all the way.
For a better friend she can't be beat,
In everything she is very neat.

There's Terry, witty and bright,
Will he work, with all his might?
He's very quiet lad,
You never see him blue or sad.

Mary Helen is sweet and studious as can be,
But an Old Maid we'll probably see.
She's been a friend to one and all,
Ready to help when'er you call.

To Harold with fun and wit,
He never seems to worry a bit,
Off to college, we'll probably see,
For a veterinarian he'll probably be.

To you Bill, our Athletic Star,
For you're a sport, that'll go far.
We hope your future will be good to you,
And may your dreams of "Coaching" come true.

Skipping school seems to be Arthur's hobby
Off to town he takes in anyone's jalopy.
But when it's time for his date,
He'll be waiting at Pauline's gate.

In classes, Adair rates as the laziest one,
He seems to vanish when things are to be done.
He'll eat, play and laugh all day,
But the teachers' rules he can't obey.

Maxie is our quiet one,
But without books, you'll find he's fun,
He's not much out for show,
But his ambition will find him on the radio.

Margie is our chatterbox,
Around her all the boys flock.
About what she's going to be,
We'll have to wait and see.

Robert dresses as neat as a pin,
He's the one girls would like to win.
He's also sweet and kind,
A better friend you can't find.

Eloise is sweet and kind as you can see,
A soldiers wife she hopes to be.
None knows what she wants to do,
But to him we know she'll be true.

Of all the light heart's in our class,
Bobby G. worked hard up to the last,
To Ramsey's Motor Co. he will go,
To be a mechanic there we know.

Norine has made all her grades high,
You can never hear a mean sigh.
She has decided that her ambition calls,
Within Leggett's Dept. store walls.

Steve is our studious one,
Without him, classes wouldn't be fun.
About what he wants to be
We'll have to wait and see.

Mary Catherine is our laziest one,
But she giggles and has her fun.
She keeps the boys from being blue,
But to George she's always true.

Being mean is Eddie's habit,
His hobby must be raising rabbits,
He has a temper that whirls like a fan,
With his jeep he'll be a great man.

James is our nice one,
Very kind and true.
With his harp he'll bring happiness,
And keep his future "Mrs." from blue.

Verney can be a lot of fun,
To know him is a treat.
Without his jokes and laughter,
Our class wouldn't be complete,

Charles studies, we all know,
Away from Spottswood with honors he'll go
Along with his books he's fun, you see.
He's a true friend to you and me.

Mary Alice is our best one,
She is the one with all the fun.
But she sits just like a board.
When she is riding in a Little Ford

Bobby Lee is little and short,
Get him mad and hear him snort.
Although he's cute as can be,
A better friend you'll never see.

Roy is our mischevious one,
He never knows what to do.
He's always into trouble,
Or looking for the girls, too.

Glenn is our tall one,
With his friends he has lots of fun,
About what he wants to be,
We'll all have to wait and see.

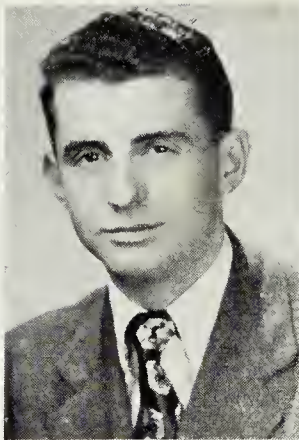

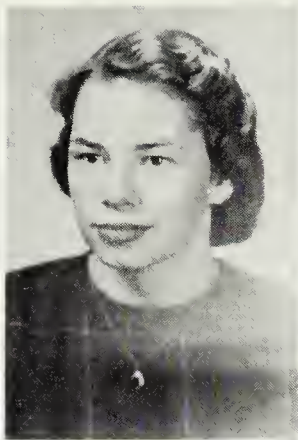

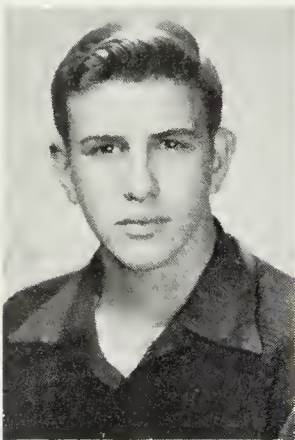

Bery Lunsford is the one,
Who never gets his lessons done,
He is sweet and lazy as can be
But he's always happy and carefree.

Clayburn is our quiet one,
With helpfulness on his mind,,
And when you want a true friend,
He isn't hard to find.

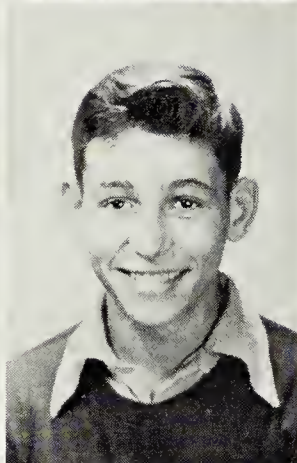

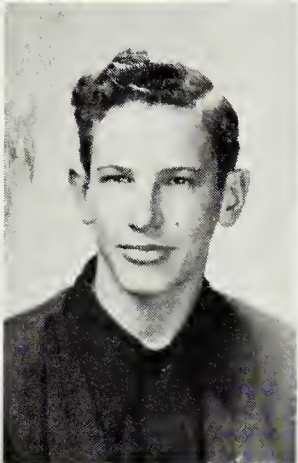

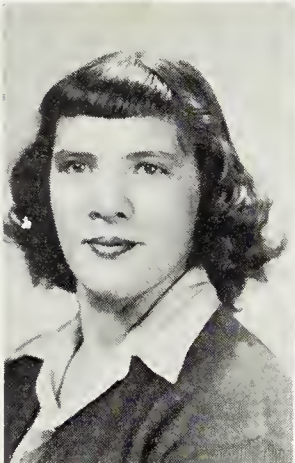

Although Raymonds hair isn't wavy,
His career will find him in the Navy,
Whether East, North, South, or West,
He wishes each of you all success,

To Cecil, we see a basketball star,
With ability he will go far.
May his life always be gay
Leading in sports all the way.

The S.C.A. has been active throughout the year. The objectives were set up at the beginning of the school year and it is hoped by those in charge that all of them can be completed. Some of our major objectives are: keeping the school clean, developing a better school spirit, exempt system from examinations, organized socials during the year, and assemblies and group meetings twice monthly.

The Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of pupils studying home-making in junior and senior high schools of the United States and Territories. It was founded June 11, 1945, and is an incorporated nonprofit youth organization. It is composed of chartered associations in the States including Puerto Rico and Hawaii. These in turn are made up of local chapters in junior and senior high schools offering home economics. Any pupil who has been enrolled or is enrolled in homemaking may become a member.

The Cyrus Hall McCormick Chapter was chartered in 1937 by the Virginia Association of Future Farmers of America. This chapter is a part of over 320,000 members in the United States, Hawaii, Porto Rico. The primary aim of the F. F. A. is the development of agriculture leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The Future Farmers believe that their motto very readily gives the ideas and ideals of this farm boy organization:

Learning to do,
Doing to learn,
Earning to live,
Living to serve.

The girls basketball squad started the season with great disappointment. We won only two games in the first half of the season. In the second half we improved by winning all but one game and worked up to second place in the district. In the tournament games we won both nights, and received District Championship.

Each of us feel that our team was a success, and that our success was because of the excellent leadership and training of our coach Mr. Ray Bussard.
